

Djanogly Community Orchestra

Website Cookies Policy Statement

We use cookies on our website. By using our website you agree to this Policy and you consent to our use of cookies in accordance with the terms of this Policy.

About Cookies

A cookie is a small file which asks permission to be placed on your computer's hard drive. Once you agree, the file is added and the cookie helps analyse web traffic or lets you know when you visit a particular site. Cookies allow web applications to respond to you as an individual. The web application can tailor its operations to your needs, likes and dislikes by gathering and remembering information about your preferences.

There are two main kinds of cookies: "session" cookies and "persistent" cookies. Session cookies only last for the duration of users using the website and are deleted from your computer when you close your browser, whereas persistent cookies outlast user sessions and remain stored on your computer until deleted, or until they reach their expiry date.

Cookies on this Website

We use Session Cookies and Persistent Cookies on this website.

We use cookies for the following purposes:

- to improve the website's usability
- to administer this website
- to provide statistical information on website usage

Generally, we use cookies to help us administer this website, to improve the website's usability.

In addition, we use Google Analytics to analyse the use of this website. Google Analytics generates statistical and other information about website use by means of cookies, which are stored on users' computers. The information generated relating to our website is used to create reports about the use of the website. Google will store and use this information. Google's privacy policy is available at www.google.com/privacypolicy.html

We do not use any cookies that contain any information that personally identifies you; a cookie in no way gives us access to your computer or any information about you.

We are committed to ensuring that your information is secure. In order to prevent unauthorised access or disclosure we have put in place suitable physical, electronic and managerial procedures to safeguard and secure the information we collect online.

You can choose to accept or decline cookies. Most web browsers automatically accept cookies, but you can usually modify your browser setting to decline cookies if you prefer. This may prevent you from taking full advantage of the website.

For more information on cookies go to <http://www.aboutcookies.org>

Third Party Cookies

We also use third party cookies on our Google Maps pages.

We may use Google Maps on our pages to provide detailed information on how to locate our rehearsal and concert venues. We use Google's interactive maps because we believe they provide a helpful way for our visitors to identify how best to travel to us. We use the Google Maps tools on the basis that Google adheres to its privacy policy which can be found at:

<http://www.google.co.uk/intl/en-GB/policies/> and its terms of service for Google Maps at http://www.google.com/intl/en_uk/help/terms_maps.html

Links to other websites

Our website may contain links to other websites of interest. However, once you have used these links to leave our site, you should note that we do not have any control over that other website. Therefore, we cannot be responsible for the use of cookies whilst visiting such sites and such sites are not governed by this policy statement. You should exercise caution and look at the statement applicable to the website in question.

Contact

This website is owned and operated by Djanogly Community Orchestra. An amateur orchestra based in Nottingham.

If you require any further information then e-mail the Chairman, Paul Morris, chairman@djanoglycommunityorchestra.co.uk

This website cookies policy template is based on a free document supplied by The Legal Stop Limited through its website www.thelegalstop.co.uk